Building tomorrow's markets

Join the EMA at its third Regional Round Table of the 2017 series. Listen, discuss, and meet with policy makers and industry professionals as we dive into a half day of sessions focused on emerging water quality nutrient trading and other new developments in environmental markets. This free-flowing format will include presentations, but will rely heavily on open discussion between presenters and attendees. Please note that lunch and drinks are included with each registration. Pre-registration is required due to building security.
